Abstract

It is important to note that the results of the present study are based on a cross-sectional design. Therefore, the causal relationship between the variables cannot be established. Future research should use a longitudinal design to investigate the relationship between the variables over time.

Aglipay apologizes to Jinggoy over call

By Christian V. Esguerra

PHILIPPINE National Police Director General Edgar Aglipay has apologized to Sen. Jinggoy Estrada for any perceived discourtesy during a phone conversation prior to deposed President Joseph Estrada's arrival from Hong Kong on Saturday.

But Aglipay maintained that he did not snipe at the senator or slam the phone on him.

"I'm asking for his forgiveness if he thought I did him wrong," Aglipay told the newsweek in an interview Monday night. "But my conscience is clear."

The controversy began when the younger Estrada phoned Aglipay from Hong Kong to ask about preparations for his father's arrival.

Aglipay said the senator wanted him to allow the entire welcoming entourage to proceed to the family's vacation house in Tanay, Rizal, to which the former President was to be driven from the airport.

"I told him I couldn't decide at that very moment because I still had to consult the Sandiganbayan and my commanders," Aglipay recalled. "I told him to wait until the following morning."

But an incensed Estrada allegedly demanded that Aglipay decide that night.

"Ngyon na! Ngyon na (Right now)!" he recalled the senator telling him.

That was when the line was cut, probably because of the distance, the PNP chief said.

With the former President safely back in detention, Aglipay said he had no regrets over the strict security measures he had ordered implemented.

"The family should understand that my priority was the former President's safety. Nothing more, nothing less," he said.

Aglipay, meanwhile, is in "superb condition" and the buzz is that he's seeking another six-month term extension.

Aglipay yesterday completed his annual executive checkup at the Makati Medical Center.

He said his doctors told him his health was "superb," that his heart was healthy and his blood pressure at 120/90 was normal for his age.

"I'm glad I'm healthy despite my heavy schedule," he said in an interview.

The PNP chief said he was surprised by the findings considering the heavy work schedule he had. He said he slept only an average of four hours.

Despite being officially declared fit, the 56-year-old Aglipay dozed cold water on lingering suspicions that he wanted to remain as PNP chief until September.

"No more, no more," he insisted.

A top PNP general, a known ally of Aglipay, claimed on Sunday that the PNP chief was lobbying to get a fresh term extension but that Aglipay's request was not granted.

Aglipay was supposed to retire on Sept. 13, 2004, but he was granted a six-month term when he was appointed last Aug. 23.

Pajero proves port exec's undoing

By Armand M. Nacian

A MITSUBISHI Pajero proved to be the undoing of a top official of the Philippine Ports Authority.

PFA Manila Port District Manager Leopoldo Bungubung was sacked the other day for violating anti-graft laws, according to Ombudsman Simon Marcelo.

In a dismissal order dated Jan. 11, Marcelo said Bungubung used his position in the PFA's ports district security bids and awards committee (PBAC) to solicit "cash and a Mitsubishi Pajero from bidders as a consideration for the award of a PFA contract."

Roberto C. Doromal of the Star Special Watchman and Detective Agency filed the complaint claiming that Bungubung and other PFA officials had asked him for bribe [commission] of up to P20,000 a month in exchange for approval of a security contract.

In 1999, Bungubung reportedly demanded between P40,000 to P50,000 a month from Doromal after the security force was increased to 184 guards at the North Harbor Special Take-Over Unit.

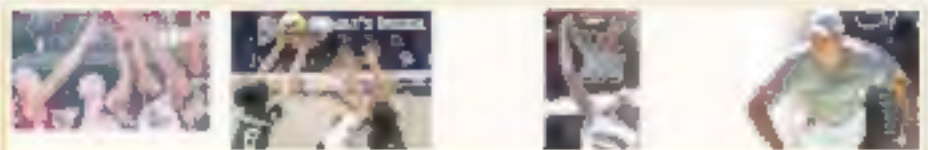

In 2001, the PFA official allegedly asked for P50,000 and a Pajero. Doromal said he and his secretary gave Bungubung P50,000 but failed to deliver the vehicle.

Doromal later found out that the business had been awarded to another agency, Marcelo said, and a late model Pajero had been registered and transferred in the name of Bungubung's son, Norman Vincent, on March 12, 2001.

The Ombudsman said that as head of PBAC, Bungubung was expected to "serve his office with the highest degree of integrity and protect the sanctity of the bidding and awarding procedure within the office."

"Sadly, he was the foremost to tarnish it," Marcelo said.

Figure 1 is a composite of 16 small, square images arranged in a 4x4 grid. Each image shows a different stage of chick embryo development. The top row shows the earliest stages, including a single cell and early cleavage. The middle rows show the formation of the blastoderm and the development of the embryo's body. The bottom row shows the final stages, including a fully formed chick ready to hatch from the egg.

The diagram illustrates a 2D hexagonal lattice. It consists of a grid of hexagonal cells. A central cell is shaded darker than the others. The side length of the hexagonal cells is labeled as 'a'. The distance between the centers of two adjacent cells is labeled as 'b'. The lattice is shown as a portion of a larger, infinite structure, with cells extending to the boundaries of the image.

Should we place an effective constraint on the government?

THE GOVERNMENT'S PROPOSAL TO INCREASE THE TAX ON LUXURY GOODS IS A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION. HOWEVER, IT IS NOT ENOUGH. THE GOVERNMENT MUST ALSO ADDRESS THE PROBLEM OF TAX LEAKAGES AND EXEMPTIONS. THESE ARE THE TWO MAJOR REASONS WHY THE CURRENT TAX SYSTEM IS NOT EFFECTIVE. THE GOVERNMENT MUST FIRST ADDRESS THESE ISSUES BEFORE IT CAN CONSIDER INCREASING THE TAX RATE. OTHERWISE, THE INCREASED TAX WILL BE OFFSET BY THE LEAKAGES AND EXEMPTIONS, AND THE GOVERNMENT WILL NOT BE ABLE TO COLLECT THE ADDITIONAL REVENUE IT NEEDS.

Accountant, driver slain in ambush

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A man and a woman were slain in an ambush on a highway in the Philadelphia area Tuesday night, police said. The victims were a 35-year-old accountant and a 28-year-old driver. The attack occurred on the I-76 corridor, about 10 miles from the city center. The victims were traveling in a carpool. The driver was killed by a single gunshot wound to the head. The accountant was killed by a single gunshot wound to the chest. The police are looking for a suspect who was seen in the area of the attack. The suspect was described as a white male, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, with dark hair and a mustache. The police are asking anyone who has information about the attack to call the police at 215-977-1234.

Firm found operating acid plant without permit

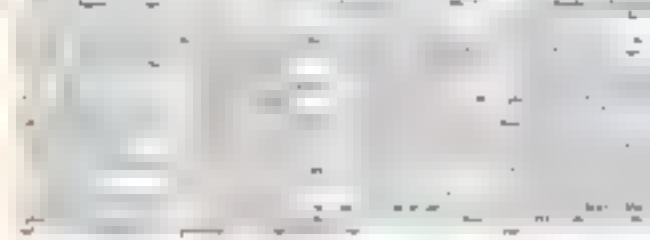

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A firm was found operating an acid plant without a permit, according to a report from the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection. The firm, which is located in the Philadelphia area, was found to be operating a plant that produces sulfuric acid. The plant was found to be in violation of state regulations. The DEP is now working with the firm to bring the plant into compliance with the regulations. The firm has been given a deadline of 90 days to bring the plant into compliance. If the firm fails to do so, the DEP may take further action, including shutting down the plant.

RP firms unfazed by credit downgrade

By [Name] | [Date]

MANILA — Despite a recent credit downgrade by Standard & Poor's, Philippine firms remain unfazed, focusing on their core business and maintaining their credit ratings. The downgrade, which affected the country's sovereign rating, was seen as a temporary setback by industry leaders.

Several major Philippine companies, including [Company Name] and [Company Name], stated that they are not concerned about the downgrade. They emphasized their strong financial position and their commitment to providing high-quality services to their customers. The companies also noted that they have a long history of maintaining high credit ratings and are confident in their ability to continue to do so.

Industry analysts also pointed out that the downgrade was based on a number of factors, including the country's economic growth and the government's fiscal policies. They noted that the Philippine economy has shown strong resilience and that the government has implemented measures to improve its fiscal position. As a result, they believe that the downgrade is a temporary setback and that the country's credit rating will likely be upgraded in the future.

Gov't to pursue foreign borrowings

By [Name] | [Date]

MANILA — The Philippine government is planning to pursue foreign borrowings to finance its infrastructure development projects. The government has announced that it will issue a series of bonds to raise funds for these projects. The bonds will be sold to international investors, and the proceeds will be used to fund the construction of roads, bridges, and other infrastructure.

the 1990s, the number of people in the United States who are obese has increased by 50 percent, according to the National Center for Health Statistics. Obesity is a leading cause of heart disease, diabetes, and other chronic conditions. It is also a major risk factor for many types of cancer. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimates that more than 30 percent of the U.S. population is obese, and this number is expected to rise to 40 percent by the year 2010. The CDC also estimates that obesity costs the U.S. economy more than $100 billion each year in medical costs and lost productivity. The CDC has launched a national campaign to reduce obesity, and it has developed a series of guidelines for healthy eating and physical activity. The guidelines recommend that adults eat a diet that is low in fat, sugar, and salt, and that they get at least 30 minutes of moderate exercise each day. The CDC also encourages people to eat more fruits and vegetables, and to limit their intake of processed foods and sugary drinks. The CDC's guidelines are based on the latest scientific research, and they are designed to help people reduce their risk of chronic diseases and improve their overall health.

10. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) is the primary photosynthetic pigment in most plants and algae. It is a green pigment that absorbs light energy in the blue and red regions of the visible spectrum. Chl a is located in the thylakoid membranes of chloroplasts and is essential for the light-dependent reactions of photosynthesis.

On a bright, sunny day, the city of [City] was filled with the sounds of music and the sight of people in costumes. The 1990s Festival was a celebration of the decade that brought us so much joy and excitement.

The festival was held in the heart of the city, and it was a sight to see. People of all ages were there, and everyone was having a great time. The music was loud and the dancing was wild.

The parade was the highlight of the festival. It was a colorful display of floats and bands. The floats were decorated with flowers and lights, and the bands were playing the latest hits.

The concert was also a great success. The stage was filled with the best of the 1990s music. The performers were amazing, and the crowd was singing along.

The festival was a wonderful day for everyone. It was a chance to celebrate the decade that brought us so much joy and excitement. It was a day to remember.
